

New Costco benefits site on the Web

Employees can now access Costco-specific benefits information from home at www.costcobenefits.com.

Designed to help people get the most from their benefits plans, this site is a one-stop shop that will link you to Costco's benefit information. It provides information on eligibility and how to enroll and contains various enrollment forms. The site also tells you who to contact if additional information is needed and includes e-mail options to the Home Office Benefits department and Aetna, as well as a direct link to Aetna Navigator.

In addition, this useful site makes it easy to check on claims, locate a doctor or dentist, and access healthcare information. You can even request a vision voucher here. Check it out!
